Woodland Certification: A Dinner Meeting for Landowners

Join Virginia Cooperative Extension for an evening program designed for woodland owners interested in learning more about getting a certified stamp of approval for their forest management activities.

Choose from one of 5 convenient locations:

- March 4, Gainesville
- March 10, Franklin
- March 11, Providence Forge
- March 18, Wytheville
- March 25, Farmville

Programs run from 4:30 - 7:30
and include dinner.

Do you own woodlands? Are you curious about woodland certification?

If you answered yes, then Woodland Certification: A Dinner Meeting for Landowners is the program for you.

During this 3-hour program, foresters from Virginia Cooperative Extension and the Virginia Department of Forestry will discuss:

- Concepts of sustainable woodland management
- What woodland certification is
- Pros and cons of certification
- Certification programs in Virginia:
 - American Tree Farm System
 - Forest Stewardship Council
 - Sustainable Forestry Initiative
- How to start the process of certification
- Results from a recent landowner survey regarding woodland certification

Ample time will be available for discussion and questions.

A full dinner will be provided.

Meetings will be held from 4:30 p.m. - 7:30 p.m.

Choose the location and date best for you:

- March 4, Gainesville
- March 10, Franklin
- March 11, Providence Forge
- March 18, Wytheville
- March 25, Farmville
